

POLITICAL UPHEAVAL THREATENS OLD PARTIES

LABOR LEADERS HUNT COALITION OF FORCES NEAR

Certain Elements of Both Parties May Meet Disaster
MAY COMBINE VOTE

Government Officials View With Alarm Probable General Strike.

Washington, Feb. 3.—A political upheaval threatening disaster to elements in the Republican and Democratic parties which are classed as antagonistic to organized labor was forecast by the proposed coalition of railroad workers and coal miners, according to predictions made by labor leaders here, today.

They conveyed the warning to the "old guard" of both parties that back of the invitation extended to the sixteen railroad unions by the United Mine Workers of America may lie an effort to combine the labor and farmer vote to exert a powerful influence in future political contests.

"There is deep political significance back of the meeting called by the president of the mine workers," William H. Johnson, president of the International Association of Machinists, declared. "It is no secret that the laboring man and the farmers of the country intend to exert all possible political influence at the polls. We are prepared to go into the primaries and have some voice in the selection of candidates."

In other labor circles it was learned that organized labor is deliberately feeling the political pulse of the United States and that when the proper time comes a third party may be launched. At the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor, it was stated that the federation "stands back of any attempt to combine among workers to combat possible wage reductions." Gompers has not yet received an invitation to attend the proposed meeting called by Lewis to bring together representatives of more than 2,000,000 organized workers.

While the warning that labor will take a hand in politics was given widespread attention in political circles here, it was declared that officials of the administration view with growing alarm the possibility that a coalition between rail and mine workers may lead to one of the greatest industrial tie ups that ever has confronted the country.

Organized ostensibly to combat wage reductions on the railroad and in the mine, the conference, called by John L. Lewis, it was pointed out, might adopt a course of action which would result in a general strike.

Officials, who will attend the conference, which probably will be held in Chicago will represent all classes of railroad workers.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—"Wages must come down. Here is the new wage scale. Take it or leave it."

This, in effect, will be the notice served on union coal miners all over the country between now and April 1 by various associations of operators it became known today.

While the United Mine Workers of America, through its president, John L. Lewis, is endeavoring to create a "defensive alliance" with the sixteen major railroad unions to combat wage reductions, the operators' associations, one by one, are informing their employees just how much of a cut they will have to take after April 1.

Such action, if carried far enough would obviate the necessity of any wage negotiations with Mr. Lewis' organization, it was pointed out.

Thus are the operators departing from their practice of wage making

FORMER OWNER OF GEM NEEDS CASH

May Yohe, formerly Lady Frances Hope, once possessor of the famous Hope diamond, alleged bringer of misfortune to all who possessed it, has opened a tea-shop in New York. Her husband, Captain John Smuts, who says he is a cousin of General Jan Christian Smuts is a partner in the enterprise.

OFFICIAL DENIAL OF SECRET PACT IN IRELAND MADE

Lloyd George Declares
Nothing to Report Now
Afloat.

London, Feb. 3.—Official denial was made today at Premier Lloyd George's official residence of Sir James Craig's statement in Dublin, yesterday, that Lloyd George had a secret understanding with Michael Collins by which "large territories in Ulster were to be transferred to the Irish free state."

This statement was issued by Col. Spender, secretary of Sir James, after the conference between Craig, who is the unionist premier of Ulster, government and Collins, who is minister of finance in the Irish provisional government at Dublin.

Immediately after his arrival here from Dublin Sir James issued a statement saying:

"The hitch in the negotiations really is serious. Yesterday, Collins produced maps indicating he already had pledged himself to bring into the Irish free state almost half of northern Ireland, including the counties of Fermanagh, Tyrone, Armagh and Down, and the cities of Londonderry, Iniskilling and Newry."

Arrangements were made for a conference between Sir James and the premier later in the day and belief was expressed that the Ulster leader would talk Lloyd George with having a secret agreement with Collins re-

He will play simultaneous chess against all comers at the Athletic club tomorrow night and a number of prizes are being offered for those who are able to win against the wizard.

Wages Must Come Down Operators Tell Miners

Action Taken By Employers May Mean Nation-Wide Strike—Cuts Ranging From 31 to 46 Per Cent Is Predicted.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—"Wages must come down. Here is the new wage scale. Take it or leave it."

INVITATION TO U. S. MAY COME FROM JAPANESE

World Conference On Race Problems May Be Called In Future.

WAIT SEVERAL YEARS

Question Admitted Dangerous One Which Has Been Avoided.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Japan may invite America to attend a world conference at a distant date to discuss problems of immigration and racial discrimination.

While denying that the Japanese government has laid any definite plans for calling of such a conference, a high Japanese delegation official intimated strongly that his government contemplates such a move.

The conference would not be called until several years of the ten year naval holiday had passed, by which time, the Japanese feel, a state of complete accord would exist between the people of the United States and Japan.

Racial discrimination was a subject upon which the Paris conference nearly split. It was the Banquo's Ghost of 1919 diplomacy. It was a subject carefully avoided by the Washington conference. Fearing that it might break up in the Washington conference before it had succeeded in winning what it sought, even China refrained from projecting the subject on the conference and the abolition of it throughout the earth is by their own spokesmen, "the goal of Japanese ambition."

Yokota, Japanese member of parliament, who recently visited Washington, clearly outlined Japan's ambitions along this line and urged the calling of such a conference.

Hope was expressed today in Japanese official quarters that the immigration and racial discrimination questions directly affecting the United States in its relations with Japan might be settled amicably between the American ambassador and the Japanese foreign office "at an early date." Failing this, Japan would be glad to initiate a conference of the powers at which would be discussed the question of immigration "and more especially the issue of racial discrimination."

FARMERS DESIRE STRICT ECONOMY IN ALL BUSINESS

Columbus, Feb. 3.—Declaring that "the unequal process of deflation has left the farmers of the state and nation in a condition near bankruptcy," a resolution adopted at the closing session of the annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, here, urged strict economy in the administration of all public and private business of every nature, to the end that normal conditions and equality of opportunity may be restored to America's basic industry—agriculture.

Activities of the agricultural bloc in congress are praised in another resolution. Other resolutions adopted advocate placing a tax limit in the state constitution, urge debt limitation, a budget system, an income tax, an inheritance tax, oppose reappraisal of real estate until such time as "adequate provision is made for the just taxation of other forms of property and income," object to a sales tax and further exemption of securities disapprove of increasing any tax rate unless approved by a majority of the voters participating in a general election, condemn the building of elaborate systems of pleasure boulevards, urge construction of economical and practical market highways, disapprove the principle of issuing bonds to meet state or federal aid in road building and urge patrol and maintenance for roads.

Other resolutions adopted approve the proposed purchase of Muscle Shoals by Henry Ford, pledge support of prohibition enforcement, urge reduced rates on shipments of milk and cream cans, and ask banks building and loan companies and other financial interests to aid in eliminating wild cat securities and questionable investment projects.

POOR CHEMIST TO MARRY DIVORCEE

Anastase Vonsiatky, a Russian Pole, who tests metals at a locomotive shop for a living is engaged to marry Mrs. R. E. Stephens, divorced wife of Redmond E. Stephens, Chicago club man. Mrs. Stephens who is said to be worth $40,000,000 is the daughter of the late Norman Ream, one of the organizers of the U. S. Steel Corporation. Vonsiatky is twenty-three, twenty-two years Mrs. Stephens' junior.

STRIKE SITUATION IN GERMANY MAY THREATEN EUROPE

Rail Tie-Up Likely To Spread To Other Lines Is Word.

Berlin, Feb. 3.—The general railroad strike threatened today to spread to other branches of unionized industry. It is reported that the coal miners in the Ruhr district are taking a secret strike vote. If this threatened walkout materializes it may force France's hand, as France has been threatening military occupation of the Ruhr ever since the armistice.

Latest advices from the industrial regions indicate that the strike may assume proportions that are bound to influence the European political situation.

The German people are anxiously watching the spectacle of the government trying to crush with iron hand the railway strike and perhaps thus forcing the same kind of general strike on which this government was founded on armistice day and reborn after the Von Kapp coup.

The whole empire is threatened with a tie up for the strike fever is seizing every line of trade labor.

Already Berlin's food supply is seriously threatened. Not a single head of cattle reached the city today.

President Ebert met the first phase of the rail strike with a history making proclamation announcing sharper repressive measures than Germany had known even in the days of the Hohenzollern monarchy. Never in the days of the Hohenzollern dynasty did the government go so far as to confiscate a strike fund.

A spectacular fight with labor arrayed against the socialist government is in prospect. The president is determined to crush the movement in its incipency, while trade unions are rushing to the aid of the rail men.

JOINT PROTEST IS MADE AGAINST RATE

Columbus, Feb. 3.—A joint protest has been filed with the state utilities commission by the Ohio Mining Company and 22 other coal mining companies operating 53 mines in the Hocking district, against the power rates charged by the Athens Electric, the Hocking Power, and the Southern Ohio Power companies. The protesters, whose mines have a total daily capacity of 13,950 tons of coal, allege that the rates now in effect are the emergency rates which were authorized during the recent world war.

AUTO OWNERS OF DAYTON OPPOSE TAX ON GASOLINE

Dayton, O., Feb. 3.—Automobile owners declare that if the city commission places a tax on gasoline in order to help make up the deficit of $200,000 in the city budget this year they will buy their gas outside the city, on the grounds that they are taxed to death as it is.

The proposal to hang on an occupational tax to help out is as fervently objected to as the proposal to tax gasoline sales at the rate of a half cent per gallon.

Steinmetz has been appointed supervisor of mail control. With the selection of H. E. Hawley, of Mansfield, as cashier, announced yesterday this completes the reorganization of the office force for this collection period. The collector said today.

FIRST BALLOT FOR NEW POPE UNSUCCESSFUL

Cardinals Begin Voting On Selection Early On Friday.

FIFTY THREE PRESENT

"Reconciliation Faction" Gaining Strength Rumor Declares.

Rome, Feb. 3.—A thin column of black smoke issuing from the Sistine chapel chimney this morning proclaimed that the conclave of Roman Catholic cardinals had taken their first ballot in the election of a new pope without a selection. Another ballot will be taken late in the afternoon.

The signal of non election was given just before noon.

Fifty-three cardinals participated in the vote. During the initial part of the conclave ritual, only 52 cardinals were present, but subsequently Cardinal Marini, who was ill of influenza, and put to bed. He is under the care of a physician and his ballot is conveyed to the ballot box by the three cardinals appointed for that purpose.

Large crowds gathered on every vantage point in St. Peter's square intently watching the Sistine chapel window for the first sign of smoke. If the fumes from the chimney had been grayish white (as from the burning paper) the onlookers would have known that a pope had been chosen. It was anticipated, however, that the first ballot would result in no election. Belief was expressed that there would not be a choice until late Saturday or possibly Monday.

The 53 cardinals of the conclave are immured from the outside world as completely as though they were living on another planet. Communication with the outside is absolutely impossible.

During the ceremonies of balloting the cardinals wear the "conical" violet colored cloak, with cowls. The cloak will not be removed until a successor is chosen to the late benedict XV.

It was regarded as possible in some quarters that Cardinal O'Connell of Boston may arrive before a new pope is elected.

As the actual balloting began claims were made by adherents of Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state that the "reconciliation faction" was gaining strength. The Gasparri group wishes to carry out the policy of the late pope Benedict XV for reconciliation between the Vatican and Quirinal.

SEE HOPE OF JURY IN ARBUCKLE CASE REACHING VERDICT

Eleven Men and One Woman Have Been Out 40 Hours

San Francisco, Feb. 3.—The jury that heard the evidence in the second manslaughter trial of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle shortly before noon today reported no agreement was possible.

At 11:24 the first word of the day came from the jury room when they asked to be brought into court. This was forty four hours after they had retired. They had deliberated fifteen hours.

The jury stood 10 to 2 for acquittal.

The exhaustive examination being given the evidence by the jurors, was the basis of the hope on the part of Arbuckle and his attorneys that a verdict will be reached.

The jurors have had in the jury room since late yesterday the entire transcript of the testimony of the case.

The jury resumed deliberation today at 9 o'clock.

While there is an entire lack of information as to what has gone on in the jury room shrewd observers believed today that the count was not standing ten to two for acquittal as in the first trial with one of the two willing to be won over if the twelfth can be convinced. It is not believed any ballots have been procured. The evidence was procured. The jurors apparently have retained their good humor and are proceeding in their attempts to reach an agreement in a friendly fashion.

PRESIDENTIAL AID OBTAINED FOR PRESS

Washington, Feb. 3.—Presidential aid was sought and obtained today to have the bill granting an extension of press rights to use Pacific radios advanced toward early passage.

The present law permitting press services and newspapers to use Pacific radio facilities expires on June 5, and Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, has a bill now in the senate, extending the privilege for five years. Poindexter conferred with President Harding today.

MORE THAN SCORE VICTIMS OF MINE DISASTER IN EAST

Total Number of Dead May Reach 29 It Is Reported Now.

Brownsville, Pa., Feb. 3.—Twenty-two bodies had been removed from the Gates mine of the H. C. Frick Coke company at Gates, Pa., up to 9 o'clock today. The total number of men killed by the great blast Thursday morning is uncertain. Company officials claim 25 will be the limit. On the other hand rescuers this morning reported they saw seven more bodies which would bring the total to 29.

Another fall of slate stopped further entrance into the workings where the blast occurred. Rescuers coming up from below said that just as they were about to pick up seven additional bodies a slate fall forced them to retreat. The latest slate fall will block the rescue work until noon at least, it was stated.

A rigid investigation of the disaster may get under way today. At present all energies are turned toward getting the remaining victims out. Miners and company officials agree that there is absolutely no hope of bringing out any of the miners alive.

Murderer of Famous Film Director In West Sought

Revenge, Jealousy and Burglary Advanced as Probable Theories in Slaying of William D. Taylor at His Bungalow in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Feb. 3.—Although they have investigated many so-called clubs and listened patiently to suggestions of his brother workers in the film industry, who have pledged their fortunes, and time to aid in the search the police have made no substantial progress in tracking down the murderer of William D. Taylor, famous motion picture director, killed in his bungalow home here, Wednesday night.

Twenty-four hours after Taylor's body was found lying on the floor of a reception room by Henry Peavey, a negro servant, the announcement was made to the International News Service, this morning, that "interesting developments will possibly occur during the day."

It is understood that most of the detectives and other officers working on the case are agreed on three theories as to the motive for the slaying. These are revenge, jealousy and burglary. And behind the first two of the theories the investigators say they believe lurks the shadow of a woman.

At 6:45 o'clock Wednesday night, Taylor ate dinner alone. At 7:05 Mabel Normand, a film actress familiar to "movie" audiences for 13 years, entered the apartment. Her chauffeur awaited outside. Miss Normand told the police she called to get a book. At 7:40 she says she returned to her automobile escorted by Taylor, who chatted for a few minutes and then went back into his home.

OPEN SESSION TO TERMINATE WORLD PARLEY

Treaties To Be Formally Signed On Monday It Is Expected.

J A P A N GIVES IN

Group Five of 21 Demands Are Now Out of Trouble Zone.

Washington, Feb. 3.—A plenary session of the armament conference, tomorrow, to close up the work of the three months' parley was called today by Secretary of State Hughes.

The session was called to meet at 10:30 a. m., a half hour earlier than the usual meeting time. This was said to be due to the heavy program which the conference will have to dispose of at its final session.

Tomorrow, in all likelihood, will see the official ending of the conference although the call for the open session did not so state. With the completion of the far eastern treaties however the work of the conference is concluded and a formal sine die adjournment is generally expected to come at the close of tomorrow's open session.

The treaties, after their formal presentation and acceptance by the full conference (tomorrow, will be signed on Monday.

Unless unforeseen contingencies arise at the eleventh hour, final obsequies will be conducted late this afternoon over the famous controversy presented by the 21 demands, thus clearing the way for the plenary session tomorrow to present the far eastern treaties and "clean up."

Japan's renunciation yesterday of group V of the 21 demands admittedly has removed some of the fireworks with which the Chinese had planned to enliven the closing days of the conference.

All that is now left for the Chinese to do is to register a vehement protest against the treaties wrung from her in 1915. This will be done in the session late this afternoon of the far east committee. And that will end the delicate and highly controversial issue of the 21 demands.

The drafting committees today were busily engaged in whipping into shape the final treaties that will incorporate the conference work on far eastern questions.

1—Embodying the Root principles with respect to the open door and the maintenance thereof with an international board of reference to adjust disputed points.

2—Granting China permission to increase her customs duties and.

3—Incorporating various resolutions adopted affecting China, which pledge the removal of foreign post offices, foreign troops, etc.

The Markets

Stocks
The market entered a period of drifting and irregularity after the speculative operations which forced numerous quotations up. The prospect of a soldier's bonus was a bearish influence, as it suggested a recurrence of high money rates. Any bull market this next half year is predicted on continued ease in money. Market commentators continue to regard the present as a constructive period, believing that idle funds will sooner or later seek and find profitable employment. Holders of stocks do not seem disposed to sell at every opportunity, as they were a year ago.

GAIN
Reaction and vacillation were inevitable after the wheat market's advance to new high points in the upward movement which had been developing for several weeks. The position of this grain is strong and further advances are in prospect, bringing relief to such farmers as still hold a goodly portion of their last year's crop. Europe has been consuming its reserve of wheat and will look to the new world for supplies. Advances from the winter wheat crop continue mainly unfavorable. The March 1, statement of farm reserves is expected to show the smallest holding in three years. Liberal receipts depressed corn and there was talk of record-breaking arrivals.

LIVESTOCK
The cattle market did not participate in the advance enjoyed by those and live mutton, but would gain strength were the growers to abstain from dumping warmed-up stuff. Heavy bullocks reversed their earlier positions and stood at a premium. Prices have probably touched bottom for the season. The situation should strengthen after March 1, if not before. Stocker values are ending higher and the demand for fleshy feeders increased with the demand for heavy finished cattle. Shippers have taken the hog market out of packers' hands and lifted it to the highest level since August. Growers are confident. Live mutton reached the season's pinnacle under Eastern competition.

Wool
Wool prices have been firm notwithstanding an abatement of speculative and manufacturers' interest in the market. The American Woolen company's price policy is expected to help stabilize the market. American wool buyers were active in foreign markets during January. Contract buying of the new clip in the West is proceeding with prices firm. Consumption of wool in this country during December declined slightly from the November total and fell about 5,000,000 pounds below the 60,000,000 reported in October.

Cotton
Too much cotton offered in the face of a slack world demand, allied with minor factors, depressed cotton last month to the 15 and 16c level. Conditions abroad are still too unsettled to assure an abundant outlet at gratifying prices for the cotton now available. Some hope was afforded by the strength of sterling and the ease in money, but their influence was minor.

Metals
Steel demand has not increased in the degree expected since January 1 and disappointment is expressed. Operations may not reach the level of October until early spring. Mills are competing actively for business and shading prices. Pig iron makes a better showing. Copper is very quiet.

Agriculture
The national agricultural conference adopting many resolutions indicative of the farmer's attitude on public questions, particularly those affecting his industry, and significant of action that may be taken in the future. The conference served to crystallize the sentiment in favor of measures designed to alleviate the distressed condition of agriculture and defined the measures which conservative opinion, overwhelming in the majority among farmers, approved.

The resolutions are a statement of the farmer's case; in a sense a farmers' platform by which legislators and administrators may guide themselves. The deliberations contributed no little solid thought upon the question now perplexing men and women in all walks of life—how to restore the American farmer to his former position as a buyer of goods and service. The conference mapped out a program which will require years for even partial realization. In thus marking out a course it banished in large measure the existing uncertainty as to just what form the farmer's agitation would take and how far it would go.

BEGIN WORK ON WORLD'S LARGEST BRIDGE.

As one eastern newspaper points out, the farmers are not demanding the issue of more currency and a beginning of fresh inflation, but issuance of credit soundly based, restricted to actual imperative needs. The farmers as a whole want no repetition or extension of the abortive Townley enterprise, nor are they verging toward extreme positions which later events would make untenable. The farmer is guarding against economic fallacies similar to those which have beset popular movements in the past. Differing from labor, he does not lean toward ideas revolutionary and subversive in the effort to better his condition. In this conservatism and soundness of judgment there is much hope.

The Agricultural "bloc" is reported cold toward the proposition of a direct ship subsidy, believing that it will increase the tax burdens and prove of benefit chiefly to Eastern industrial interests. Without seeking to justify a subsidy it may be well to point out that the conference has a large stake in ocean transportation as the endorsement of the St. Lawrence canal project and its appeal for government aid in financing agricultural exports reveal. This country must have adequate shipping facilities. The farmer's money helped build the new merchant marine and something must be done to keep at least a substantial portion of it in profitable operation.

MOTHERS' CIRCLE ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

An interesting program was presented before the Spring Hill Mothers' Circle at its regular meeting held Thursday afternoon. The mothers were entertained with patriotic exercises by the children of the fourth grade under the direction of Miss Gretsinger. Miss Helen Hickman then sang "Gray Dawn."

The Spring Hill Building is proud of two of its pupils, Lawrence E. Byler and Francis Jack who entered the mothers with two selections on the drums and piano.

Plans were made for the entertainment to be given at the School Building the evening of February 24, to help toward raising the fifty dollars pledged to the Community Chest Fund. Three members were appointed to represent the circle at the regular meetings of the Social Service.

MANUFACTURERS OF U. S. SEEK LAWS TO STOP RAIL STRIKES

Thirty Thousand American Business Men Make Appeal.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Thirty thousand and American manufacturers today appealed to the senate interstate commerce committee through the National Industrial Council for federal legislation to prohibit railroad strikes.

The council, represented by a committee of nationally known manufacturers condemned the present railroad system of management as "inadequate and inefficient."

The anti-strike legislation asked by the manufacturers would be similar to the Kansas state industrial court act, outlawing all stoppage of work in vital industries.

Consolidation of the United States railroad labor board and the interstate commerce commission into a single federal agency, with full control over railroad rates, wages and working conditions was advocated.

NEWPORT TAKES ON ASPECT OF CAMP AS TROOPS ARRIVE

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 3.—With the arrival today of 350 infantrymen and cavalrymen, the strike zone surrounding the huge plant of the Newport Rolling Mill company took on the appearance of an armed camp. Pickets were thrown out immediately and the dead lines that were established during the night were extended. At least for a few hours, and the arrival of the state troops is said to be having its desired effect upon the strikers and their sympathizers.

The soldiers who are being accompanied by armored tanks, seven of which rammed into the area last night. These tanks are moving up and down the streets this morning, threatening to hurl forth a volley of steel and lead at the least sign of an attempt to storm the mill.

APPEAL IS MADE FOR PERSONAL WORK AT REVIVAL MEETING

There was a snap and punch to the meetings at the First Methodist Church, Thursday, which was different from any of the others. The membership seemed to sense the fact that this meeting meant work and more work.

Dr. Scott in his message was eloquent as he made his appeal to the congregation for personal service. The fact that the truth of the discourse had accomplished the end intended was evidenced when practically every man in the audience remained for a conference to discuss plans and methods of inviting members of the church to attend next Tuesday evening which will be known as "Church Night."

A committee was appointed to district the city, divide the membership and on Sunday afternoon, in pairs the men of the church will make an every member canvass.

Friday night there is to be a meeting of all Sunday School officers and teachers to begin plans for "Sunday School Night." Saturday night there will be services and at this meeting the women will be asked to consider a definite part of the program for next week.

Mr. Wiand was enthusiastic about his reception at both the Junior and Central High Schools where he spoke Friday. He says Xenia can feel proud of the young men and women in our schools and that credit must be given to a superior faculty.

OHIO FARM BUREAU WILL AGAIN SELECT BRADFUTE AS HEAD

Columbus, Feb. 3.—When the board of directors of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation meets today it will be required by constitutional provision to elect a president and vice president, whose terms are for one year each.

It was said last night that probably O. E. Bradfute, who has been president since the organization of the federation, would be re-elected without opposition, and that re-election would come to D. M. Odaffer, Bucyrus, vice president, also, without opposition.

It was pointed out that the reelection of Mr. Bradfute would go forward, regardless of political developments in which James E. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, is the center, and that later, should Mr. Howard become a U. S. senator and Mr. Bradfute succeed him as president of the American Federation, Mr. Odaffer would automatically succeed Mr. Bradfute as Ohio president.

Because of the probability that O. D. Owen, Beverly a member of the executive committee, will be a candidate for re-election on the executive committee, and the directors today will choose a successor to him Mr. Owen temporarily will continue as a member of the board of directors, to which he was recently elected, however, until actual entrance into his political campaign.

Announcement was made yesterday of the re-election of directors by the counties in their several districts.

HARMON REFUSES TO SEEK OFFICE

Columbus, Feb. 3.—"I am authorized by former Governor Harmon to state that he cannot consent to become a candidate for the nomination of the office of governor of Ohio," declared Judge Hugh L. Nichols, Batavia, former lieutenant governor and more recently chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, here today.

"Mr. Harmon's decision in this respect is irrevocable and therefore, must be accepted by the people of Ohio as final."

Judge Nichols declined to state whether he will become a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination this year.

CALL BY DEATH

Funeral services for George Smith of Cedarville, who passed away at his home there, Wednesday night, were held at the late home, Friday afternoon, at one o'clock, in charge of the Rev. V. E. Busler, pastor of the Methodist Church assisted by Dr. Pult, of Cincinnati, Dr. W. R. McChesney, and Dr. Harriman.

Mr. Smith passed away Wednesday after an illness of several months. He was about 65 years of age and had been a resident of that place all of his life. He is survived by his wife who was before her marriage, Miss Rose Welmer, and three daughters, Florence, Regina and Christina, and one son Robert, all at home. Two sisters, Mrs. Lucy McClellan and Mrs. Edward Turnbull of Cedarville, also survive.

YELLOW SPRINGS MAN IS AWARDED MEDAL

H. D. Folmer, West Jefferson, is champion of the One Hundred Bushel Corn Club in Ohio this year, according to announcement made yesterday at the Ohio State University at Columbus, in connection with Farmers' Week. He produced 125.64 bushels an acre on 10 acres.

He and these other high producers on 10 acres each were awarded medals: William H. Gilmore, Eaton; John Domic, Sylvania; Lester Fogelson, Findlay; Harvey G. Hammond, Uckey City; Lewis L. Guard, North Bend; John Gleason, Sabina, and J. Elmer Drake, Yellow Springs. The lowest yield in the lot was 105.8 bushels an acre.

DELEGATES ATTEND CHURCH CONVENTION

A number of delegates from Christ Episcopal church of this city attended the two-day session held at the Christ Episcopal Church, of Dayton, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Delegates from the local church were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Little, Miss Bess Fulton, Mrs. T. H. Zell, Miss Sarah Williams, Miss Ruth Ross, Mrs. Charles Haas, Miss Edith Fawcett, Carl Nybladh, Benjamin Snell and S. H. Deacon.

FIRE DRILLS HELD AT LOCAL SCHOOLS SHOW GOOD WORK

Proof that every public school building in the city can be emptied of students in less than a minute and half in case of fire, was given, Friday morning, in a series of fire drills conducted by Superintendent of Schools C. A. Waltz, and Fire Captain Charles Mahanna.

The fire drills were arranged, Friday morning, without informing the teachers or pupils and officials checked the time necessary between the ringing of the fire gong in each building until the pupils were safely outside the walls. The fire drill plan will be held regularly in the future under the supervision of Fire Captain Mahanna, it is announced, averaging twice a month.

Considering the size of building, the number of students and the fact that two floors had to be emptied, the morning classes at Central High School made the record time for getting out of the building when the alarm was turned in about 8:30 o'clock Friday morning. The building was emptied in three-quarters of a minute, or exactly 45 seconds of time.

The auxiliary building in the rear of the Central School, being a one-story building, was emptied in 35 seconds after the alarm was sounded. At McKinley Junior High, one minute and three seconds were required for the children to get out of the building and at the Spring Hill School, the building was emptied in one minute and 18 seconds. The Orient Hill School was emptied in 40 seconds, and the Lincoln Building children were out of the structure one minute and two seconds after the alarm sounded.

Because of the shift system in effect at Central High School, a second alarm was sounded there, Friday afternoon, and the building was emptied in one minute and 12 seconds.

According to Fire Captain Mahanna, the time required by pupils in getting out of the buildings, was very good considering the fact that fire drills in the past have been infrequent. More frequent drills in the future, averaging twice a month although without students or teachers knowing when they will be held, are expected to bring the time required to empty the various buildings to much less than the time consumed Friday morning.

MARTIAL LAW ZONE OF MEXIA EXTENDED

Austin, Texas, Feb. 3.—Governor Pat M. Neff, today issued a proclamation extending the martial law zone of Mexico to include all of Freestone County.

Martial law was proclaimed for Mexico in order to cope with the state of lawlessness which followed the rapid growth of the new oil field.

The zone was extended, it was stated, because scores of gamblers and bootleggers, driven from the city, had resumed operations just outside the zone, defying efforts of the police to put them out of business.

BONUS BILL WILL PASS IN TWO WEEKS

Washington, Feb. 3.—A soldier bonus bill carrying provisions for raising funds for cash compensation will be passed by the house within two weeks, according to predictions made today, by Chairman Fordney, of the house ways and means committee following a conference with President Harding at the White House.

SAY FIRST BONUS PAYMENTS FEB. 15

Columbus, Feb. 3.—This first batch of soldiers bonus vouchers, numbering possibly 25,000, will be mailed out Feb. 10, and may be cashed Feb. 15, sinking fund commissioners predicted yesterday.

Conversion of bonds into cash will begin Monday, it was said, and the full $20,000,000 may be in the treasury before the end of next week.

The soldier bonus funds will increase the total of bonds and cash in his custody to $132,000,000. Treasury Archer said.

The great seal in the governor's office was never so busy in its history as yesterday. Between morning and last midnight it clamped down 20,000 times, that being the number of bonds that had to be sealed. The task was completed in one day by national guardsmen operating the seal in relays.

The work was behind locked doors and under the protection of a detail of guardsmen, headed by Capt. H. H. Grave.

Half of the $20,000,000 worth of bonds has been sold by the syndicate which purchased them from the state, it was announced yesterday.

Bulldogs Play Tigers St. Brigid's "Bulldogs" will play the Xenia at Tigus at the Rink, Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, it is announced.

COMMISSIONERS TO DECIDE ON PROPERTY APPRAISAL MONDAY

Whether Greene County real estate will be reappraised this year will be decided by the county commissioners at an open hearing on the question to be held, next Monday, Feb. 6, in the commission chamber, beginning at ten o'clock in the morning.

The hearing will be public and arguments for or against reappraisal are invited. The question must be decided annually by the commission, acting on the findings of the County Auditor as to whether that official feels that property in the county is properly appraised.

In his annual January report of his findings County Auditor R. O. Wead has struck at any program of reappraisal by strongly recommending that the commissioners decide not to follow such a course. In making this recommendation the Auditor points out that valuations have not yet reached normalcy and that the cost to the county would be great.

Section 5548 of the General Code referred to in the letter of the auditor commands county auditors annually, in January, to make a finding to the county commissioners as to whether real estate in the County is properly appraised and at its true value, and to recommend or discourage reappraisal. The finding is then acted upon within ten days after it is filed by the county commissioners.

SMALL HOUSES SEE LEGION OFFERING

With all of the ease that usually accompanies a third night performance, the "Minstrel Revue," staged under the auspices of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion at the Opera House, closed Thursday night.

Both performances of the "Minstrel Revue" played to comparatively small houses, there being empty seats in the theater both nights. The Legion management of the show was not able to say yet Friday afternoon, how much the Legion would realize on the production.

With the exception of the character portrayed by Mr. Cashion in a small part in the olio, this company was made up entirely of local talent. Miss Helen Hurley had charge of the music during rehearsals and was pianist for the orchestra at the performances of the Revue.

BENEFIT PROGRAM SCHEDULED FRIDAY

R. Hayes Hamilton, travelogue lecturer, who will present his new telephoto play lecture at the Presbyterian Church, Friday evening, for the benefit of the Spring Hill Opportunity School, will appear and once on the night program according to Superintendent of Schools C. A. Waltz.

The motion picture program will be given, Friday afternoon, at the McKinley Junior High auditorium. The program for the public will start at 6:30 o'clock Friday night, when "The Vicar of Wakefield," a photo dramatization of Goldsmith's immortal work, will be the feature attraction.

Mr. Hamilton will appear at 7:45 o'clock presenting his new lecture on the Adirondacks, introducing pictures of Lake Placid, Saranac Lake and the mountains in winter and summer. This will be the first presentation of this lecture in Xenia.

Superintendent Waltz has received assurance that the screen version of "The Vicar of Wakefield" is remarkably faithful to Goldsmith's original and follows very closely the novel. The scenes, in order to make the picture more realistic, were actually laid in England.

Dr. Grube To Speak Dr. R. H. Grube, county health commissioner, will address the members of the Mother's Circle of Orient Hill School, at the meeting to be held at the school house, Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. BY UNFLAGGING BELIEF IN HIS DREAM HE STRUGGLED ONWARD TO ITS ACCOMPLISHMENT.

Eighteen years ago there was a vast area surrounding Lake Okeechobee which was practically untouched by the hand of man. The Everglades were known as the great expanse of saw grass marsh and cypress swamp inhabited only by alligators, Indians and wild game. By the average man this area was consigned to everlasting uselessness.

But in the Florida gubernatorial campaign of 1904 there entered a candidate, the chief plank in whose platform was drainage of the Everglades. Napoleon B. Broward was unknown even in his own state save as a filibuster who had successfully and time after time evaded the blockade and smuggled arms to Cubans, who were struggling for freedom from Spain. Broward's exploits with the tug "Three Friends" were known all over the world, but as a statesman or politician he was regarded as a joke when he entered the gubernatorial race.

His slogan "drain the Everglades" was regarded as a mere vote catching phrase to be used only to land him in office. But Broward was sincere. He drew maps. He studied the Everglades. He was a convincing talker and before many weeks he began to "sell" the Everglades idea to the voters of Florida, much to the consternation of the machine politicians who had their own candidates for governor.

Broward campaigned for months. He visited every little village and community in the state. Wherever he could gather a few voters together he talked of what the drainage of the Everglades would mean to Florida and the world at large. He talked convincingly and he made the voters believe him. They elected him governor of Florida.

And Broward didn't forget his campaign promises. He started the great work of draining the Everglades—a gigantic task now nearing completion. Possibly there was a graft, mismanagement and delays. Fortunes were made and lost gambling in the Everglades lands. The drainage was not accomplished as quickly or as economically as Broward figured. There were disappointments and criticism, but the great work has gone ahead from year to year until it is almost completed.

And the result: Today the Everglades section is dotted with prosperous towns, thousands of acres of its fertile soil is under cultivation. Great sugar plantations are planned and immense refineries are being built. The dream of Broward has come true. His declaration that the Everglades would furnish the sugar to sweeten the entire United States bids fair of realization.

Henry M. Flagler built the East Coast railroad and made possible the development of the Atlantic coast side of the peninsula of Florida. Henry Plant built a railroad to the west coast and brought industry and development to that section of Florida. Both had millions back of them.

But Napoleon B. Broward had nothing but a dream of an agricultural empire. Without any friends, money or influence, by sheer determination, dogged insistence, unflagging belief in his dream, he fought down ridicule and struggled onward to the accomplishment of that dream.

He made the people of Florida believe in him and in Everglades drainage. After he had begun the work as governor, the people of this state elected him to the United States Senate, that he might go to Washington and there enlist the aid of the Federal government in Everglades drainage. But Broward had worked too hard and he never lived to take his seat in Congress. He had given his life in the endless fight to make Everglade drainage an accomplished fact.

But the work has gone on until it nears completion. What other man with so small a following or capital has accomplished so much for Florida? Such towns as Moore Haven, Okeechobee City, and a score of others are a monument to the ability, farsightedness and determination of Napoleon B. Broward—Florida's greatest governor and developer.

With the completion of the drainage work, which is possible within the next two years, some enterprising city in the Everglades section should stage a celebration, marking the completion of a gigantic task and paying honor to Napoleon B. Broward—Florida's greatest developer.

COLLECTING YOUR $100 LOANED IN EUROPE.

The nations of Europe owe to the United States more than $11,000,000,000. This staggering sum is equal to $100 for every man, woman and child in America.

Of this amount $9,500,000,000 represents obligations of various kinds incurred during the World War. The remaining $1,500,000,000 is interest the nations have failed to pay.

Altogether the $11,000,000,000 is a little less than half the total American public debt, which is $23,000,000,000, almost all of it originating from the World War. The money came from the sale to the American public of Government bonds, bearing, on an average, interest at the rate of four and a quarter per cent.

The failure of the foreign nations to pay even the interest on their indebtedness is costing the American people, therefore, more than $450,000,000 a year. This is in excess of $4 for every resident of the United States, and with Europe deferring payment the money must be raised by taxes.

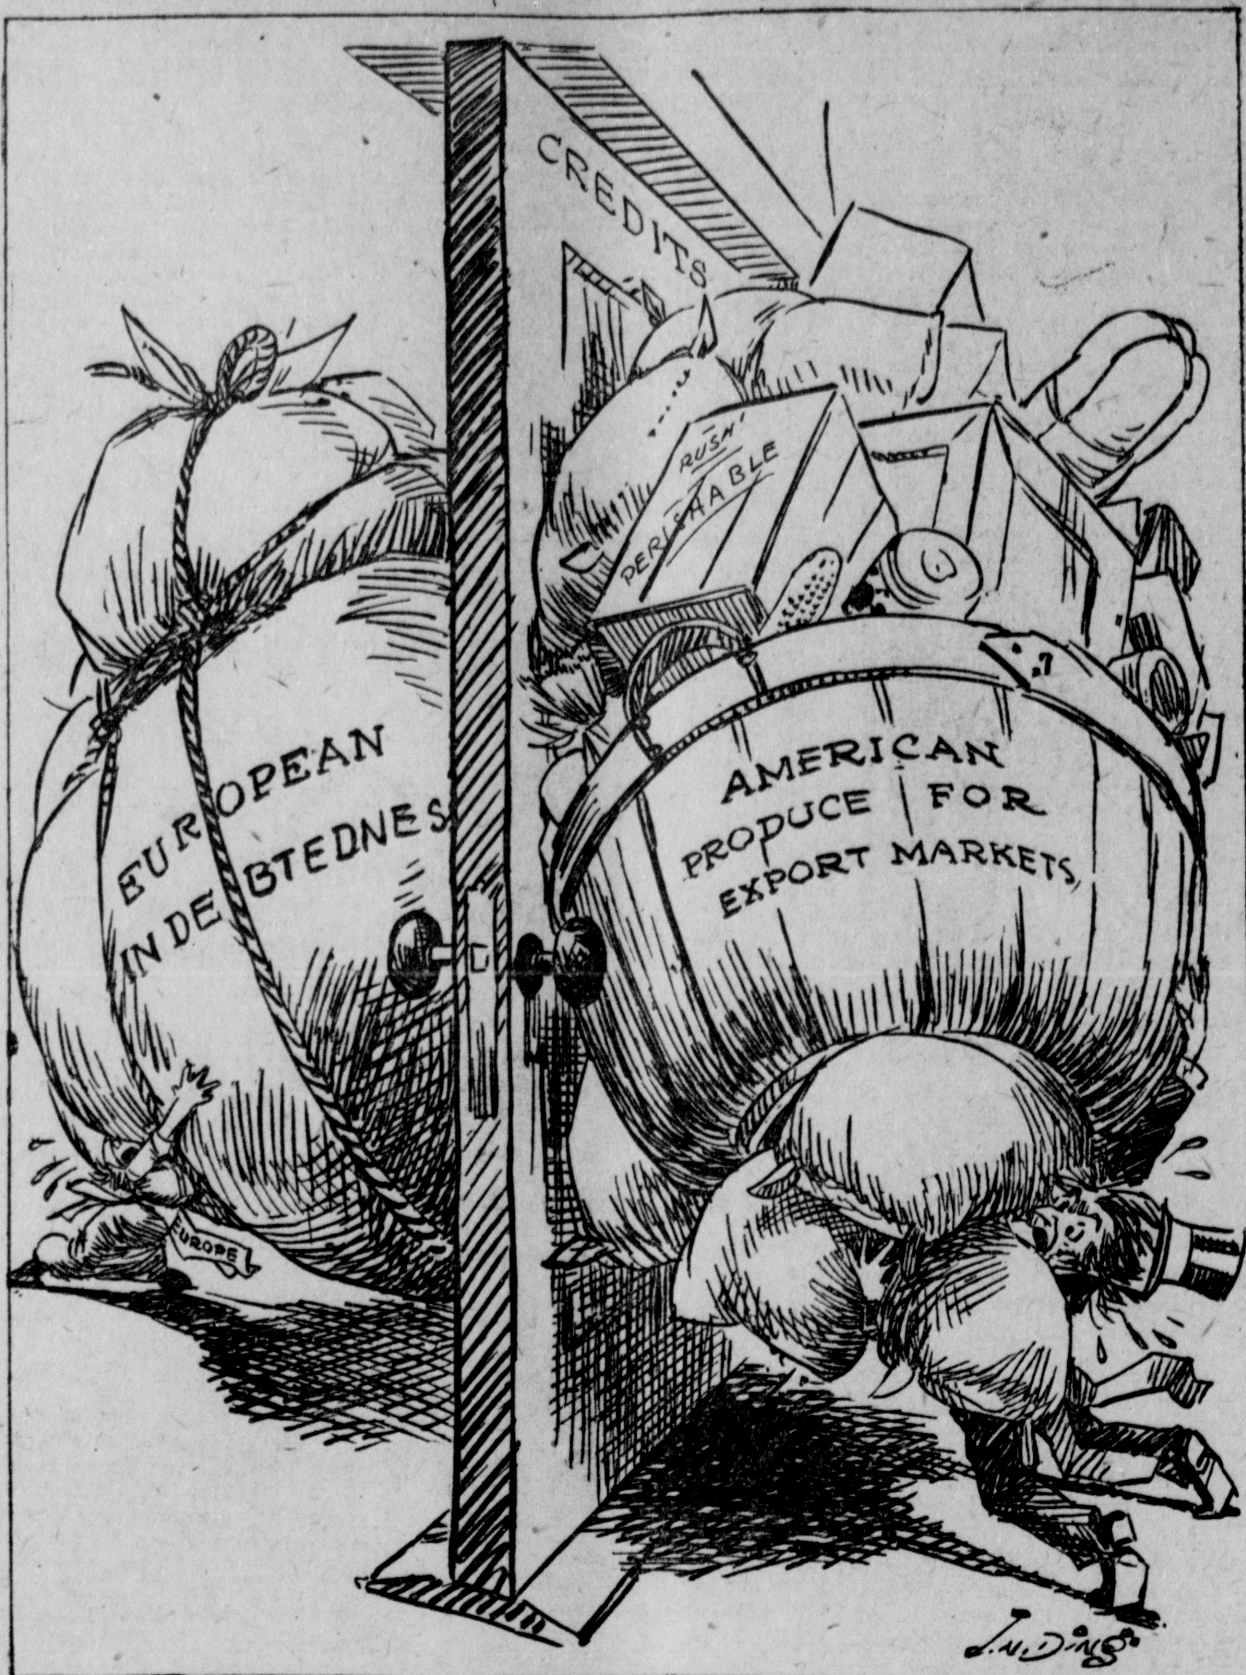

The speedy payment of the foreign debt, in consequence, becomes a highly personal question for everybody. Until some headway is made toward a satisfactory settlement—at least until the foreign nations are able to meet their interest charges—Europe will continue to be a financial burden to America.

Congress at this time is considering legislation which will enable the fiscal officers of the Government to arrange a settlement. It is preparing to create a so-called World War Foreign Debt Commission, composed of five members, with broad powers to deal with the foreign nations in any proper way to obtain payment. The commission, the chairman of which is to be the Secretary of the Treasury, will continue for three years and will operate subject to the approval of the President of the United States. There is every prospect that it will be functioning by spring.

WHEN YOU DINE OUT

You want to look your best at all times, of course, but when you dine out, you want to look particularly well! One woman said there was no time like dinner time for inspecting other women—it's so easy to sit and look hard and criticize, while all the other women are placed there at tables for leisurely inspection. I never thought about it that way before, but I think she may be right.

In any case, when you dine out you want to be extra careful about your hair and your hands. If a suit has old fashioned lines it won't show so much because you are seated. If your shoes aren't as smartly new as you could wish them to be, you have the comforting knowledge that your feet are tucked out of sight under a table. But from your head to your waist, you are in the limelight.

Nowadays, of course, it isn't correct to take off the coat of the suit except important item too—but then gloves always are a particularly important item in a woman's wardrobe. They should be fresh and beautifully clean.

K. N. W.—H. L.—The girl of 19, height 5 ft. 9 inches, should weigh 140 pounds. The boy 16, 5 ft. 3 should weigh 120 pounds.

Betty—The stray hairs that sometimes grow between the brows over the nose can easily be extracted by using blunt end tweezers. If you prefer to have them removed by means of electric needle treatment it will not hurt you, but these hairs are so easily destroyed that they often never grow again after they have been extracted a few times.

Jean—I shall be glad to mail you the formula for the hair tonic if you send me a stamped addressed envelope. To brighten the shade of hair that is chestnut color, brush it several times each week, air it and dry it in the sunshine.

Tomorrow—The Child's diet.

SPRINGFIELD HIGH OUT FOR REVENGE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

A certain day in November when Coach Jerry Katherman's Central High football eleven soundly trounced the Springfield High pigskinners on the gridiron was not so long ago but that the Springfield school is still ranking from the defeat.

Thus it is with a spirit of getting revenge for this grid disaster that Coach Matheny's court team is entering the game with Katherman's tilters at Springfield, Friday night. Both teams were defeated by Middletown by one point, although the locals forced the Butler county team into extra periods to do it, and this does indicate the teams will be evenly matched, Friday night.

Local fans, many of whom will accompany the team are confident that a little form such as displayed against Norwood last week, will prove the undoing of the Springfield gvs. As a preliminary the Springfield High girls will play the Antioch Academy girls team.

VILLAGE TO BE REPRESENTED

Marietta, Feb. 3.—Practically every Ohio city and village along the Ohio river between East Liverpool and Marietta is expected to be represented at a meeting of the East Liverpool-Marietta Highway Association here on February 22 when proposed additional plans for work on the Ohio river road will be discussed. Actual work on the road is under way near Shadyside, Belmont county. The road eventually is expected to become a part of a Cincinnati-Pittsburgh paved road running through what is described as one of America's most beautiful valleys.

at home—heavenly knows how these conventions are made, but they are and we must conform to them. In this case, it's a saving in blouses anyway, for it's good form to wear a sleeveless vestee with a net or muslin back under the suit coat. All the expense of the blouse may then be lavished on the real lace of the vestee which, incidentally, any woman can make.

The hair, showing under the hat, must be perfectly dressed, a hair net will take care of loose wispy ends. The nails must be perfectly manicured, for the hands show most prominently at dinner. Gloves are a particularly im-

MISS NELLIE COLLINS

"I have been thankful a thousand times that I took Tanlac when I did. It is simply wonderful the way it has benefited me," said Miss Nellie Collins, 1330 Connecticut Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.

"About eight months ago my appetite began to fail and I seemed to be going into a decline. Nothing agreed with me and my nerves were keyed up to such a high pitch I was actually afraid they would snap in two."

"But Tanlac has brought about a wonderful change in my condition. My appetite is almost ravenous, my digestion is perfect and I feel as well and strong as I ever did in my life. I never dreamed there was as grand a medicine as Tanlac in the world."

NOTE—The International Proprietaries Co., distributors of Tanlac, have on file in their offices at Atlanta, Georgia, over fifty thousand signed statements from representative men and women from every State in the Union and every Province in Canada. Many of these are from prominent people in this city and section and have been previously published in this paper.

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and by leading druggists everywhere.

THE GOOD TURN.

One day I saw a ditcher, who feebly plied his spade; I took him out a pitcher of kickless lemonade. His name was Peter Leary—and that's his handle yet—and he was hot and weary, and longed for something wet. "That drink was most delightful," the steaming Peter cried; "my thirst was something frightful, and burned up my inside." Long years have passed since Peter poured down that lemonade, and watched me calmly teeter back to my fig-tree's shade. The other day while driving my corrugated car, it sunk, despite my striving, in mud as thick as tar. There I was mired completely, in glue-like gumbo stuck, and I orated sweetly about the dad-blamed luck. Then came a whiskered granger who drove two sorrel mares; "Wilt pull me out, O stranger?" I cried, between my sweats. He pulled me from the wallow—his team was strong and smart; I knew what was to follow—a bill to break the heart. For I've had farmers haul me from mud-holes now and then, and always they'd appall me, by their demands for yen. He said, "You make me weary! No money shall be paid! For I'm the Peter Leary who drank your lemonade!" I've often helped a fellow who groaned beneath his pack, and ne'er found one so yellow he wouldn't pay me back.

HICKMAN NAMED NEW POSTMASTER AT WILBERFORCE

The climax of a long political fight for the postmastership of Wilberforce was reached when Randall Hickman, new appointee, succeeded to the office this week.

Hickman, who is a Republican, and a member of the Republican Central Committee, is said to have been strongly endorsed by Congress men S. D. Fess and other Republican leaders, while friends of J. D. M. Russell, who was appointed under the administration of Ex-President Wilson attempted to have been reappointed.

The new postmaster has appointed as the new clerks, H. C. Clay, a former postmaster and Mrs. Martha Shields.

COUNTY AUDITOR ADDRESSES CLUB

The system of taxation, the division of classes of property and the duties of the auditor and his assistants were fully explained by County Auditor R. O. Wead, in a talk before the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Thursday evening, at the Chamber of Commerce.

The subject of taxation, and the process of the law, is one of the most vital of questions confronting the voters, said Mr. Wead. The talk was well received by members of the club, the larger per cent of the membership, being voters.

Mr. Wead's address was the only feature of the evening, the meeting being the regular program session of the club. The next meeting, at which business matters of the club will be taken up, will be held, February 16.

Will Case Drawn Out
The cases of Caroline Barnett, against Frank Simison and others, to set aside the will of the late, Mary Simison, which is being heard by Judge C. A. Reid, of Washington, C. H. and a jury in common pleas court, will probably continue until Saturday, court attaches believe.

The large number of witnesses subpoenaed on both sides is responsible for drawing out the length of the case, attorneys for the plaintiff taking two days in which to hear all of the witnesses called, before the defense began to present its side of the case.

INDIANAPOLIS FIVE TO PLAY ROAN POST

The Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. five will provide opposition for the John Roan Post, American Legion quintette at the Rink Monday night. It is announced by the management.

Up until the Chicago Defenders took the measure of Xenia's fast colored aggregation at the Rink last Monday, the Indianapolis team was the only court aggregation to have turned the trick on the locals.

In a game played at Indianapolis the Y. M. C. A. five defeated the locals 44 to 33 early in the season. That the visitors cannot repeat the trick here is the assurance of the local tossers. The game Monday will be preceded by a game between the sextette of the Women's Auxiliary and the Community Service League girls' team of Dayton and will be followed by a dance.

Have the same assurance that the majority of other housewives have.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

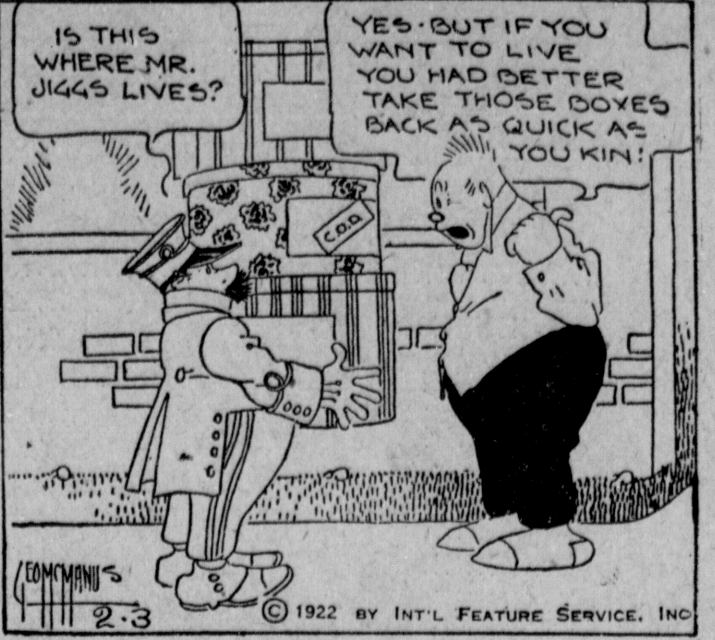

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

Roses Bring Unhappy Thoughts CHAPTER 30.

At breakfast Helen could talk of nothing but her good time, Mr. Barnes appearance, his good dancing and so on.

"It was too bad you were too tired to dress and come with us," she said, pricked to the remark by Jack's silence.

"You took good care not to tell me where you were when you telephoned, or where you were going. I couldn't have joined you had I wanted to," he replied, jealousy stirring again.

"Why, you said distinctly you were too tired to join us. So I hung up," but Helen said nothing more about her good time the night before.

"She didn't want me," Jack said as she left the table for a moment. "No, I shan't tell her!"

It was hard to keep the good news to himself. He had been so elated over that big fat commission. But her chatter had strengthened his resolve.

"You got the money all right?" he inquired.

"Yes—thank you, Jack."

"You won yesterday?" he asked.

"I won just enough to get the stockings and gloves you refused to buy me."

On his way to the office he ran into Howard Dunn. To him he told his news, and that he would repay the $40 he had borrowed as soon as the papers went through.

"Take your time, Hunter," Dunn answered. "Glad to accommodate you any time."

"Thanks, old man, but I won't need to borrow again."

"Don't be too sure just because you landed old Turnbull. Big fish don't swim into your net every day."

"I know, but it encourages a fellow, doesn't it?"

"You bet it does." They were about to separate when Jack said:

"Come up and take dinner with us some night, Dunn."

"Set the time and I'll be there."

"Say Friday then," but just as he turned away a thought struck him—"that is, if Mrs. Hunter hasn't anything on for that night."

"Telephone me if I don't see you," and so it was left.

"Anything on for Friday night?" Jack asked Helen when he reached home. "Whew! Who's spending money for flowers?" a bunch of lovely roses in a vase on the living room table caused the inquiry.

"No—why?"

"I asked Dunn to dinner. He's been mighty white, and I thought you wouldn't mind."

"Of course I don't! I like Mr. Dunn, although I saw so little of him."

"That's all right then. I was to telephone him if you had made any engagement. But who sent the roses?"

"Mr. Barnes. Wasn't it sweet of him?" Helen bent her head over the flowers.

"I don't know that I am tickled to death! Let him keep his flowers or send them to some other woman."

"Why, Jack Hunter, how ungrateful! Just because someone sends me roses. You never buy me any nowadays," in the hurt tone he knew so well.

All through dinner Jack was very quiet. He didn't like Barnes sending his wife roses, but she had honestly told him and perhaps he was foolish to make anything save mere friendliness of the action. If he made a fuss, Helen might try to deceive him. So throwing off his jealous feeling, he chattered with her as usual. But all the evening the roses annoyed him. He felt that he would like to open the window and throw them out.

Helen put them on the ice for the night.

"It will be nice to have them when Mr. Dunn comes. I can make a pretty center piece for the table," she told him naively.

"What a grouch I am," he muttered when alone. "I ought to be ashamed of myself." Yet the last thing before he slept came the wish that Barnes hadn't sent Helen those flowers.

"I must get her a bouquet once in a while, I guess I can afford to now," he smiled as he thought of the big commission.
